The Cyber Thief

One day, a lady named Ananya got a phone call at 2:05 p.m. that her money is stuck in an insurance. She got an insurance for her car the last week only. 'We will transfer 1 rupee than the rest,' saying this the caller cut the call. They transferred 1 rupee. Then they called again and said that they are going to transfer rest of the money. 'By mistake, we have transferred 50,000 instead of 5,000, can you please return rest of the money,' they said. She transferred 45,000 from her account. In the evening, she wanted to buy grocery, so she went to the ATM to withdrew cash from the account. There shesaw that her account was empty! She quickly ran to the police station.

In the police station, Inspector Kiran was sitting on her chair. Ananya came and explained everything. 'Police and government always spread awareness to beware of cyber criminals;

Inspector Kiran said. 'However, tell me in detail, what happened exactly: She explained everything in detail. 'Hm ' thought Inspector Kiran. 'This is a case of cyber-crime. We will have to forward this to the cyber-crime department. You will get your money in a week or two,' finished Inspector Kiran. 'But I don't have any groceries at home: cried Ananya. 'You will get your groceries by the police till then,' assured Inspector Kiran. 'You will get your delivery by tonight, maybe by eight'. 'Thank you,' said Ananya and left the police station. Then Inspector Kiran called a grocery vendor and said, 'Please send grocery to the address I am messaging according to a week. And yes, do not take money from her, I will pay. And also, do not tell her that I have sent, tell it's from the police'.

We do not have any idea about this source, it's a local one, near Satellite Road, maybe by a cyber cafe, said the cyber-crime department's on-duty officer to Inspector Kiran in the morning next day. 'Can you please tell me the name of the café', said Inspector Kiran. 'We iage ou', said the cyber-crime department's on-duty officer. lalikant Cyber Café', read the message

Dr. Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar

Dr. Bhimrao Ramji Ambedkar, better known as Dr. BR Ambedkar was born on 14 April 1891. He was a Indian jurist, economist, social reformer and the first Law and Justice Minister of Independent India. He was graduated from Elphinstone College, affilated with the University of Bombay, then he studied economics at Columbia University, London. He was also trained in Law at Gray's Inn. He published many journals and advocated equal rights for Dalits, who were considered as untouchables at that time, they were not allowed to drink water from public wells, some other person has to pour water for them from a certain height. One time, Ambedkar and his elder brother were going to meet their father by train. They got off at a small station in Maharashtra called Masur. They hired a hand pulled rickshaw to get to their father's house, but when the rickshaw driver came to know that they are Dalits, he pushed them off the rickshaw. Then they had to walk to their father's house. It was summer season, so he felt thirsty, but they were not allowed to drink from the well. But after some time he felt so thirsty that he forgot about everything and drank water. Then he was beaten up by the public. This affected him deeply. He was the chairman of the committee that drafted our Indian constitution. He was came to be known as Babasaheb fondly. He was announced as the law minister of our country officially on 15 August 1947. He was conferred with the Bharat Ratna posthumously in 1990.

GIRL POWER

There was a girl named Lakshmi. She studied in seventh standard Udgam School For Children. Her classmates always teased her for being so thin. She told this to her mother. In one PTM, her mother told her teacher about this.

"There's a kids gym nearby, you can send her there", said her teacher. "That's a fantastic idea", said Lakshmi's mother. When they got home, Lakshmi's father told, "We will have to leave after 10 days, I have been transferred". "But I have to send her in a kids gym for a 2 year course", said Lakshmi's mother.

"Ok, I permit you to live here for 2 years", said Lakshmi's father. After two years, Lakshmi became very strong. Then she became champion in U-14 and U-17 wrestling. Then she served in army for 15 years.

Wildfires in Los Angeles
Wildfire breaks in LA. Some major fires are Palisades fire, Kenneth fire, Hurst fire and Eaton fire. According to the reports, the reasons for this are expected to be the Santa Ana winds and climate change. At least 10 people are estimated to have lost their lives, and thousands of structures have been destroyed, this can cause a loss of more than $100 billion. In error, evacuation alert was sent to almost 10 million phones in LA's areas that were not threatened, which also caused a panic in the areas that were not threatened. Firefighters are fighting the blazes bravely, we are hoping for the best.

Ans: Dr Subramaniam Jayashankar

Books can be fantasy, or encyclopaedia, adventure or mystery, or even history! Oh! They all keep me hooked up, never let me look up.

Writers can be Bond, Murthy, Kipling, Blyton, they all help my face lighten.

Roald Dahl has written for every age group, he always keeps me in a loop.

Reading is evergreen, whether it is a light cut, or it is time for tea
